Tom picked up his first camera at the age of 12 and soon became a photo enthusiast. He learned the art of photography and his business ethics first hand while working with his father who owned and managed a photography business for 45 years. Hemstreet later worked in a professional photo lab for about 17 years before starting his own photography business.

Hemstreet's studio is conveniently located in Ontario and provides photographic services to Wayne, Ontario, and Monroe counties. Hemstreet Photography is a full service photographic studio, working both in the studio and outdoors, where they offer many attractive settings. Hemstreet will also travel to your home or locations of your choosing to provide complete coverage for your once in a lifetime event to create that special portrait. Hemstreet is dedicated to capturing and preserving, for you and your loved ones, the many special moments and occasions that happen in life.
